PROMOTIONAL OFFER FOR
HPE CLOUD VOLUMES
Offer validity from April 15 to July 31, 2020

The unpredictability in supply and demand due to COVID-19 has forced companies, small and large, to convert business investments from capital to variable expenses. The new demand surges in application workloads, data creation, analysis, and storage and has an impact on businesses by rapidly drawing down their storage performance and capacity. HP requires a fast and economical approach to address these challenges—without compromising on the business or overlooking application architectures and criticality. HPE Cloud Volumes answers the call.

As an enterprise cloud storage service, HPE Cloud Volumes unlocks agility and innovation by empowering IT to move away from managing infrastructure, to simply consuming it. Organizations can spin up storage capacity in minutes and pay-as-they-consume in the cloud without compromising on enterprise SLAs.

In the wake of COVID-19, HPE Cloud Volumes makes it easier for businesses to support unpredictable demand, manage cash flow, and modernize data protection. To support businesses during this pandemic, Hewlett Packard Enterprise is offering the following promotion for HPE Cloud Volumes from April 15 to July 31, 2020:

1. 10 TiB of free capacity per month for 90 days (for U.S. businesses)
2. $3500 (USD) credit toward each Silver or Gold subscription of HPE Cloud Volumes (for all geographies)
3. Plus, this offer can be added on to existing credit and discount promotional offers.

U.S.-based companies: The 10 TiB promotion is for new accounts opened between April 15 and July 31, 2020. For continued service beyond the 90 days or consumption that exceeds 10 TiB per month and/or 5000 IOPS per month, the business will be billed at the conclusion of the 90-day promotion. Promotion is for businesses with a registered U.S. address for their credit card. The $3500 credit promotion applies per account and is for subscriptions purchased between April 15 and July 31, 2020. Businesses can qualify for both promotions based on qualified purchase. Other terms and conditions do apply. Contact your HPE sales representative for more details.

Non-U.S.-based companies: The $3500 (USD) credit promotion applies per account and is for subscriptions purchased between April 15 and July 31, 2020. Other terms and conditions apply. Contact your HPE sales representative for more details.
